

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

Wednesday 26 November
8.00	Registration: DARLINGTON CENTRE (CONFERENCE LOUNGE)
8.45	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Welcome & Introduction (Bill Pritchard)
9.00	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session A. Environmental management in food production. Chair: Hugh Campbell A1: Higgins, Vaughan, Jacqui Dibden and Chris Cocklin Market-Based Instruments and the neoliberal governing of land management in rural Australia
9.20	A2: Freckleton, Rebeka and Stewart Lockie Market Based Instruments in NRM: landholders and biodiversity targeted programs in Central Queensland
9.40	A3: Carruthers, Genevieve Playing with the big kids: how EMS provides an opportunity for agricultural smallholders to meet global expectations
10.00	Discussion
10.15	morning tea
10.40	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session B: Carving up the landscape: agriculture, land use change, and planning (1) Chair: Peter Parbery B1: Parbery, Peter and Roger Wilkinson Portrait of a social landscape: Melbourne's rural hinterland	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session C: Connectedness and vulnerability across the world of food. Chair: David Burch C1: Arifin, Bustanul Biofuels development and its effects on food security in Indonesia
11.00	B2: Houston, Peter. New ideas for Australian rural landscapes	C2: Lockie, Stewart, David Carpenter and Rebeka Freckleton Sustainability and the 2008 global food crisis: tradeoffs and synergies between exports and food security for resource poor communities
11.20	B3: Buxton, Michael Fragmenting the landscape: institutional failure and the threats to agriculture in Melbourne's peri-urban areas	C3: Bandaralage, Jay Impact of rising global food prices and policy responses in South Asia
11.40	B4: Hickey, Deanne, Melissa Neave and Bill Pritchard. Identifying changes in rural land holdings: Processes of fragmentation and consolidation?	C4: Gertel, Jörg Realigning agri-food chains in Southern Europe and North Africa (1): Framing processes of deterritorialization
12.00	B5: McKenzie, Fiona (DPCD, Victoria). Part time communities – Understanding population mobility in rural areas	C5: Sippel, Sarah Ruth Realigning agri-food chains in Southern Europe and North Africa (2): Local livelihoods in the Souss-Region, Morocco
12.20	B6: Beilin, Ruth, Regina Lindborg and Cibele Queiroz. Agricultural land abandonment and biodiversity: Cropping nature's fields for culture and science	C6: Bjørkhaug, Hilde Agricultural restructuring in Norwegian family farming
12.40	Discussion	Discussion

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

13.00	Lunch
14.00	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session D: Convenor's Address (Kristen Lyons)
14.40	Break to change rooms
14.45	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session E: Carving up the landscape: agriculture, land use change, and planning (2) Chair: Peter Parbery E1: Dibden, Jacqui and Chris Cocklin Contested domains, alternative futures: the struggle for GM-free zones in Australia	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session F: Doing Agri-Food Fieldwork Offshore. Chair: Jasmine Glover F1: Smith, Kiah. When two worlds collide: Collaborating with NGOs in agri-food field research
15.05	E2: Cary, John and Anna Roberts Sustainable farms for sustainable catchments and landscapes: The vexed place of Environmental Management Systems	F2: Brunton, Virginia and Michelle Smith. "Sự quan tâm coi trọng mối quan hệ" (care, respect & relationship) Women in partnership in Vietnam: Improving the Skills of Women in the Safe Production of Indigenous Vegetables in Vietnam
15.25	afternoon tea
15.40	E3: Brunton, Virginia. An environmental history and potential future of sustainable agriculture in the Sydney Basin	F3: Glover, Jasmine The challenge of a mixed methods approach of researching in India: Where to draw the line?
16.00	E4: Mason, David and Ian Knowd Hawkesbury Harvest: From food security to food sovereignty. A hard road to hoe	F4: Brown, Paula. Scales of participation and livelihood experiences in Marine Protected Areas in Vietnam
16.20	E5: Sinclair, Ian. Planning For Australia's food security	F5: Freckleton, Rebeka and Stewart Lockie. Ensuring research ethics are not 'lost in translation'
16.40	E6: Budge, Trevor. Food – The missing ingredient in Australia's metropolitan planning strategies	F6: Hill, M. Ann. Action research tools and community-based food economies in the Philippines
17.00	E7: Larsen, Kirsten. A framework for food sensitive urban development	F7: Lyons, Kristen and Samantha Neal Organic agriculture in Africa: research as praxis and re-thinking our role as social researchers
17.20	Discussion	Discussion
17.50	Close	Close
19.30	Evening function (Agri-food trivia) The Grandstand, University of Sydney

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

Thursday 27 November
8.30	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session G: Agri-food technologies. Chair: Jane Dixon	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session H: Sustainability and restructuring in agri-food production areas. Chair: Stewart Lockie
	G1: MacKenzie, Ang, Hugh Campbell and Joanna Govern Farming marine frontiers: contextualising new technologies within the aquaculture industry of Aotearoa New Zealand	H1: Ecker, Saan Valuing sustainable food and fibre: implications for integrated supply chain sustainability approaches
8.50	G2: Oro, Kohei Realities of a “farmer-driven” R&D system: An analysis of agricultural innovation processes in Australia	H2: Payne, Tracy Impact of deer farming on rural landscape: views from Northland and the Te Anau Basin, New Zealand
9.10	G3: Scrinis, Gyorgy Technological forms and rationalities of agri-food production	H3: Benn, Karen Rethinking government policy aimed at reducing the sugar industry’s impact on the Great Barrier Reef
9.30	G4: Kimber, Julie, Frank Vanclay and Peter Nichols Assessing the social consequences of emerging food technologies	H4: Le Heron, Richard, Christina Stringer and Christine Tamásy From ‘cooperative’ to ‘corporate’: Evolving dynamics of the Australian dairy industry since c2000
9.50	Discussion	Discussion
10.00	morning tea
10.15	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session I: Organic and alternative food movements. Chair: Paula Brown	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session J: Understanding rural regions. Chair: Michael Hanslip
	I1: Paull, John The surprising history and geography of the first "Organic Farming" Association	J1: Pritchard, Bill and Phil McManus and Neil Argent Uncoupling redux? How do Australian farm enterprises commercially engage with their adjacent regional economies?
10.35	I2: Grimes, Sandra The innovative wisdom of holistic organic systems: recent past, present (and future?)	J2: Almas, Reidar and Lynda Cheshire Changing relations between town and countryside: a comparative analysis of Norway and Australia
10.55	I3: Adamsen, Jannie Mia, Kristen Lyons and Hume Winzar Who is shopping for organics in Australian supermarkets? Results from a recent observational study	J3: Ingemann, Jan Holm The lost conception of Glocalisation - Or how rurality tends to be locked-in in the space of place
11.15	I4: Gracy, Pailly Private-government synergy in organic supply chain and transition to global quality standards	J4: McKenzie, Fiona (Wentworth Group of Concerned Scientists) Agriculture and food: Where science meets politics
11.35	I5: Staley, Louise Food movements and food producers: are they compatible?	J5: Campbell, Hugh and Julia Haggerty Keeping the stress off the sheep: Animal bodies, intensification and feedbacks in New Zealand pastoralism
11.55	I6: Cole, Nicki Global capitalism, global knowledge: An examination of consumption and morality in the United States	J6: Lewis, Nick New Zealand’s Recognised Seasonal Employer Scheme and the reproduction of rural spaces in viti-horticultural regions
12.15	Discussion	Discussion

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

12.30	Lunch
13.15	Session K: DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM (Chair: Bill Pritchard) Conference Keynote Address Ownership, tenancy and property rights: forgotten elements in the agricultural restructuring debate Prof Brian Ilbery
14.00	Change of session
14.05	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session L: Climate Change and Agricultural Prospects (1). Chair: Nadine Marshall L1: Marshall, Nadine. Why are primary producers reluctant to use innovations to enhance their resilience to climate change?
14.25	L2: Hogan, Anthony and Michael Hanslip. Climate risk and adaptation
14.45	L3: Gray, Ian, Geoffrey Lawrence and Peter Sinclair. The sociology of climate change for regional Australia: Farmer capacity for change amid drivers for consensus and certainty in an uncertain environment
15.05	Afternoon tea
15.25	Session M: Climate Change and Agricultural Prospects (2). Chair: Nadine Marshall M1: Fleming, Aysha. Community resistance to climate change: A case study of Tasmanian farmers	Session N: Understanding food consumption. Chair: Kristen Lyons N1: Edwards, Ferne Mapping meals in metropolis
15.45	M2: Rosin, Christopher and Mark Cooper. Where others fear to tread: Emissions trading and the regulation of agricultural greenhouse gases in New Zealand	N2: Hattersley, Libby and Jane Dixon Healthy competition or healthy communities? An ecological public health analysis of the 2008 Australian grocery inquiry
16.05	M3: Whittenbury, Kerri and Penny Davidson. Influences on irrigators' scheduling and application decisions: the importance of intuitive knowledge	N3: Buchler, Sandra, Kiah Smith and Geoffrey Lawrence Safety, quality and the future of food: Consumer perspectives of traditional and modern food risks
16.25	M4: Rickards, Lauren. From natural disaster to climate change: How redefining drought is affecting farming families	N4: Isaacs, Bronwyn Changing consumption in Chiang-Mai: Is there room for culture inside a (super)marketed Thailand?
16.45	M5: Cooper, Mark Governing agricultural greenhouse gas emissions in New Zealand – Science meets a market	N5: Wilkinson, Roger and Peter Parbery The social authorising environment for Victorian agriculture
17.05	M6: Alston, Margaret Gender and climate change	N6: Murphy, Andrew Farmers markets, retailing and consumption in New Zealand
17.25	M7: Weller, Sally Drought, climate change and rural adjustment: Destinations of exiting farm families	N7: Richards, Carol, Geoffrey Lawrence and David Burch The myth of trust: Supermarkets, risk and the re-manufacturing of food provenance
17.45	Discussion
18.00	Close
19.30	Conference Dinner (Rubyo's Restaurant)

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

Friday 28 November
8.30	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session O: Centering social science in building diverse and resilient biological economies. Chair: Richard Le Heron O1: Vanclay, Frank, Wendy Russell, Julie Kimber and Heather Aslin Technology assessment in social context	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session P: The political economy of agri-food systems. Chair: Carol Richards P1: Almas, Reidar and David Burch Private Equity takeovers in the Nordic food sector: Does corporate, cultural and political environment matter?
8.50	O2: "Team Biological Economies". Le Heron, Richard, Nick Lewis, Mike Roche, Hugh Campbell, Eric Pawson, Mairi Jay, Caroline Saunders and Matt Henry Performing supply chains as biological economies; connecting industry, policy and social science	P2: Burch, David and Geoffrey Lawrence Financialisation and the food system: A preliminary analysis
9.10	O3: Reid, John and Prencipe, Gianni The biological economy of Ngai Tahu Maori Landowners – Hunter-gatherers and scientists identifying pathways and challenges to building Nohoanaga Kaika	P3: Maclurcan, Donnie Nanotechnology and the Global South: The challenges beyond GMOs
9.30	O4: Le Heron, Richard, Nick Lewis and Erena Le Heron Positioning the Biological Economies project: some preliminary institutional landscaping	P4: Marie-Vivien, Delphine and Claude Garcia Geographical Indications: from French terroir to India's identity
9.50	O5: Morris, Carolyn, University of Canterbury, and Joanna Govern, Ang, and Hugh Campbell Producer habitus and biopharm imaginaries	P5: Bryceson, Kim Using Bayesian Belief Networks to evaluate a 'Walking the Chain' capability developing exercise
10.10	O6: Panel Session on Biological Economies	P6: Arifin, Bustanul and Zakaria Abbas Efficiency analysis of maize production and marketing in East Lampung, Indonesia
10.30	Discussion	Discussion
10.50	morning tea
11.10	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session Q: Biosecurity and Risk in Agri-food Systems: Towards an Antipodean social science research agenda? Chair: Geoffrey Lawrence Q1: Maye, Damian and Brian Ilbery Risk, farmer knowledges and disease management
11.30	Q2: Carr, Anna Communicating biosecurity risk in peri-urban Australia
11.50	Q3: Ilbery, Brian and Damian Maye The UK Rural Economy and Land Use (RELU) program: Lessons for Australia and New Zealand?
12.10	Discussion

Program: Agri-Food XV, University of Sydney

12.30	lunch: AFRN business meeting (DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM)
13.45	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session R: Chair: Nick Lewis. Panel session for Conference attendees not presenting papers to discuss their research.
14.15	DARLINGTON CENTRE CONFERENCE ROOM Session S: Global markets and local environments: understanding the positions of agricultural smallholders. Chair: Jeff Neilson S1: Pritchard, Bill, Michelle Godwin and Gracy Pailly Is India different? Smallholders and supermarket procurement in the Bangalore region	INSTITUTE BUILDING BOARDROOM Session T. Understanding farmers. Chair: Vaughan Higgins T1: Beilin, Ruth Applying resilience thinking to the case of the potato growers in Corangamite Victoria
14.35	S2: Fold, Niels. Cooperatives and the streamlining of fruit production in the Mekong delta	T2: Larsen, Kirsten Opening up trans-disciplinary dialogue and action in the food system through risk / resilience assessment
14.55	S3: Abbas, Zakaria, Bustanul Arifin, and Hanung Ismono. Micro-institutional analysis of maize farmers' groups in East Lampung, Indonesia: The roles of ABGC partnership in linking farmers to market	T3: Small Bruce, Liz Wedderburn, Martin O'Connor and Tim Barnard The deliberation matrix: A partial trial in an agricultural context
15.15	S4: Challies, Ed. Global Commodity Chains and rural livelihoods: Small-scale raspberry producers in Yerbas Buenas, Chile	T4: Farmar-Bowers, Quentin Understanding the decisions women make in farming families
15.35	S5: Neilson Jeff. Who really benefits from organic certification? Lessons for the coffee highlands of Central Aceh	T5: Hunt, Lesley The 'good' farmers of New Zealand
15.55	S6: Sekher, Madhushree and Regina Birner Best practice or best fit? New approaches for agricultural extension in India	T6: Pini, Barbara and Lia Bryant Reading the discourses of gender, farming and disability in Australian Story's With this Ring
16.15	S7: Smith, Kiah. Ethical trade and the experiences of women smallholder farmers in Kenya	T7: White, Toni Managing environmental water quality on farm: Farmers' perspectives
16:35	S8: Sharp, Timothy. Beyond an export oriented discourse of markets: betel nut and the informal economy in Papua New Guinea	T8: Gill, Fiona Decision-making on farms: intergenerational attitudes towards change
16.55	Discussion	Discussion
17.15	FORUM RESTAURANT (DARLINGTON CENTRE)
-19.00	Closing event: Canapes and drinks and the Annual "agri-bagri" awards	